

Finalising your claim

At NRMA Insurance, we will pay reasonable and necessary costs associated with your accident-related injuries while you recover once eligibility criteria is met. We can also support you in other ways during your recovery, so feel free to talk to your Claims Consultant at any time. Once your treatment is complete and your accident-related injuries have fully recovered or stabilised, we can work together to finalise your claim. Depending on the severity of your injury, we can also finalise any other benefits you may be entitled to. Please talk to your Claims Consultant if you require further information.
